

s 2010 0064

The invention relates to the construction, in particular to the wall constructions of buildings and structures. The wall construction consists of an outer layer, which contains two composite blocks of a height of a floor, made of sawn natural stone, a composite sill block, top and bottom fastening blocks of reinforced concrete, placed to form openings for window or balcony door with window, and an inner layer of heat-soundproofing concrete.

Claims: 1

Fig.: 3