

a 2016 0093

The invention relates to biotechnology and environmental protection, in particular to a fungi strain.

A strain of Rhizopus stolonifer fungi, deposited in the National Collection of Nonpathogenic Microorganisms under the number CNMN-FD-18, is proposed for biodegradation of cobalt and nickel compounds.

Claims: 2